Abstract	SmarterMail users can sync their email to their Android Gmail app by configuring an IMAP account. With an IMAP account, you will create a two-way sync between SmarterMail and the device, where all emails folders are synced. This means that when you log into the SmarterMail Web interface, actions you performed within the Mail app on your iPhone or iPad will automatically appear in the Web interface, and vice versa.

Follow these steps to configure a SmarterMail IMAP connection on an Andriod device

Note: We will have sent you your email hostname, username and password in a welcome email. Please have that to hand before starting this procedure. If you don't have it, please contact us and we will re-send it to you.

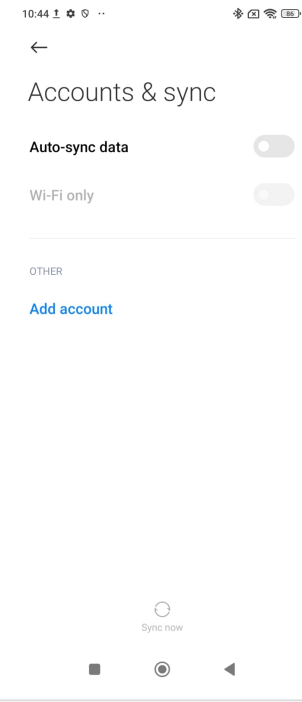

1. Open your Settings on your phone:

A screenshot of an Android home screen. The time is 10:41 on Tuesday, April. The weather is 'No data'. The home screen has a blue and green background. There is a search bar at the top. Below it are several app icons: Gallery, App Mall, Mi Browser, Music, Google, Play Store, Themes, Mi Video, Game Centre, Security, and Settings. A hand cursor is pointing to the Settings icon.

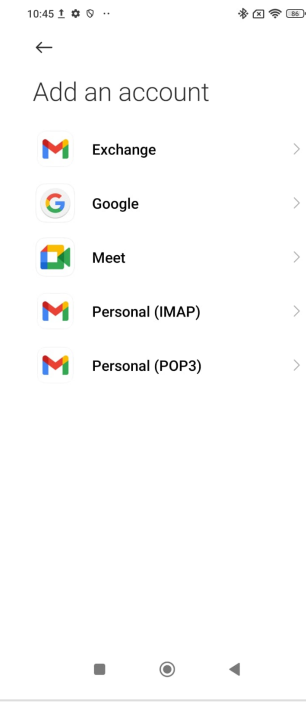

2. Scroll down and click Accounts & sync:

A screenshot of the Android Settings app. The title is 'Settings'. There are several menu items: Apps, Additional settings, Digital Wellbeing & parental controls, Xiaomi Account, Google, Accounts & sync, Privacy, Location, and Services & feedback. The 'Accounts & sync' option is highlighted with a blue bar.

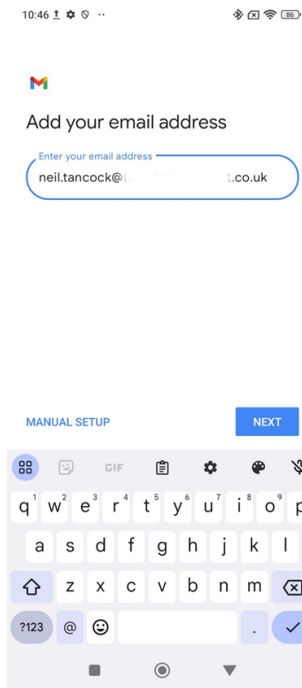

3. Click on Add account:

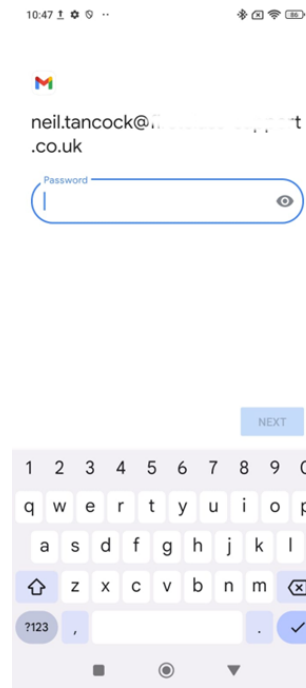

4. Click on Personal (IMAP)

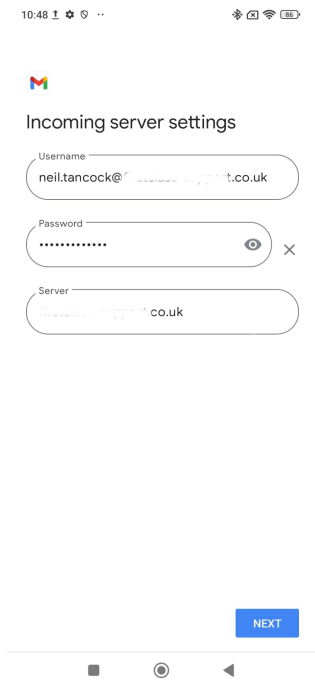

5. Add your email address and click [Next]:

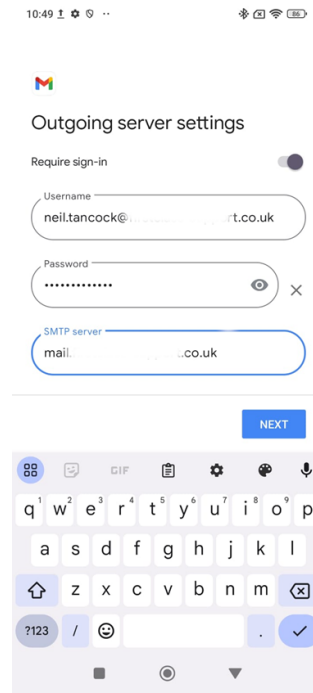

6. Enter your password and click [Next]:

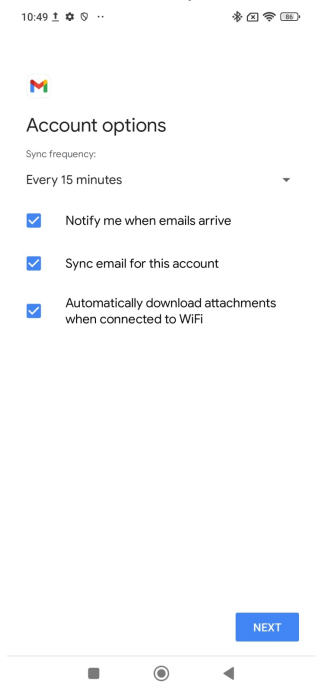

7. On Incoming server settings, change the Server to mail.firstclass-support.co.uk and click [Next]

8. On Outgoing server settings, change the SMTP Server to mail.firstclass-support.co.uk and click [Next]:

9. On Account options, change nothing and click [Next]:

10. That's it - your emails are now in your Gmail app:
